GO-GETTER OR JUST GOAT-GETTER? THERE'S A DIFFERENCE

A few years back the community suffered from an epidemic of a more or less unjustified goose-stepping. Recently it has appeared that the city is suffering from a somewhat similar condition. The question is: Why? What is the cause of this epidemic?

Of course it is impossible to set the exact cause of the outbreak, but one can make an educated guess that it may be due to some sort of psychological effect. Perhaps the current fashion of wearing exaggerated suits has caused the people to adopt a more aggressive posture.

The term "go-getter" is used to describe people who are ambitious and energetic. It is a positive attribute in the workplace and society.

However, "goat-getter" is a derogatory term used to describe people who are aggressive and seek to dominate others.

The difference between the two terms is in the attitude and intention.
